How do the masters justify your being a slave or servant?	Born to that status; you are bound to the land.	Africans enslaved by Africans: - Lost war (POW) - "outsiders"	Enslaved Native Americans, but decrees by the king: - 1500 Only if "just war" - 1542 Cannot enslave West Indies – Africans enslaved				After the unsuccessful rebellion by the landless men (Bacon's Rebellion) in 1676:
How long does it last?	For life--and your kid's life	Life (but could marry, "achieve status" Kids – "frequently emancipated" & "could not be sold"	Mainland, serfdom for life and your kid's life 1. encomienda 2. repartimiento –varied service (weeks to year) West Indies – for life				- The Virginia assembly grants votes only to those who own land. - Planters stop bringing in indentured servants into Virginia.¹ - Planters start bringing enslaved Africans (no land and no vote).
How does someone know you are not a free person who is able to go about the world by yourself?	People know you as a person.	Seems to be that people know you – recognize you.	Mainland – Reasons similar to serfs West Indies – Africans on islands so no escape
What kind of work do you do? Is it different from the work of a free person who is working?	Same as free person of worker status.	Seems to be same work in Africa Different work for Africans sold to the Portuguese. SEE BELOW.	Varied – mining and refinery work deadly for Native Americans Severe/deadly for Africans on islands and on the coast – "high death rates"		Notice: In 1660, blacks in the Chesapeake will be under 4% of the population (900 to 24,000 Europeans).		Notice: By 1720, blacks in the Chesapeake will be 20% of the population.

The Portuguese bought African slaves and used them differently. The Portuguese develop:

- Plantation system that "becomes dominant in America"
- Slave trade system – Note: Slave traders did not necessarily use slave labor themselves. In the 1500s, the Portuguese were the dominant slave traders; in the 1600s, the Dutch; and by the 1700s, the English, including merchants in English colonies.

¹ Although the South begins to turn away from bringing in white indentured servants, the Northern area of the Middle Colonies continues to use indentured servants. Those immigrants who could not afford to pay for their own passage were "redemptioners," the equivalent of indentured servants whose labor would be sold for a number of years upon arrival." (C4, "German and Scots-Irish Immigrants.")
