Course Catalog Description	A survey of the social, political, economic, cultural, and intellectual history of the United States from the Civil War/Reconstruction era to the present. United States History II examines industrialization, immigration, world wars, the Great Depression, Cold War and post-Cold War eras. Themes that may be addressed in United States History II include: American culture, religion, civil and human rights, technological change, economic change, immigration and migration, urbanization and suburbanization, the expansion of the federal government, and the study of U.S. foreign policy.
Instructor's Grading Formula	Objective and daily work includes Learning Quizzes on concepts and map locations, Evidence Quizzes on requirements for evidence for history, 3 Unit Exams, and a Departmental Final Exam. Written work includes brief in-class writings and a formal, brief paper using primaries. See the syllabus for course policies, exam dates, grading policies, and points for types of assignments and for the final letter grade.
Instructor's Attendance Policy	Attendance will be taken daily at the beginning of the class using a seating chart. For security reasons, the door will be locked 5 minutes after the beginning of the class.
ADA Statement	The college will make reasonable accommodations for students with documented disabilities. Students wishing to receive accommodations must contact the Office of Disability Services, located in the Pioneer Student Center, Room 313, at the Wharton campus or by phone at (979) 532-6384. Students must request accommodations from the Office of Disability Services prior to each semester. Please note that accommodations provided are not retroactive. ## Course Information

Prerequisites:

TSI satisfied in Reading and Writing

General Education Core Objectives:

- Critical Thinking Skills (CT) - creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, and analysis, evaluation and synthesis of information
- Communication Skills (COM) - effective development, interpretation and expression of ideas through written, oral and visual communication
- Social Responsibility (SR) - intercultural competence, knowledge of civic responsibility, and the ability to engage effectively in regional, national, and global communities
- Personal Responsibility (PR) - ability to connect choices, actions and consequences to ethical decision-making

Student Learner Outcomes:

Upon successful completion of this course, students will:

1. Create an argument through the use of historical evidence.
2. Analyze and interpret primary and secondary sources.
3. Analyze the effects of historical, social, political, economic, cultural, and global forces on this period of United States history.

Required Course Materials:

This textbook is required for all written assignments: David M. Kennedy, Lizabeth Cohen, and Mel Piehl, The Brief American Pageant: A History of the Republic, 9th edition. It is the one-volume edition containing 41 chapters and is used for both History 1301 and History 1302. The ISBN is 9781337124645; however, that ISBN is a "bundle" and includes both the textbook and an online program called Mindtap. In this course, we will not use Mindtap.

You must use your textbook and other resources provided in the course (including primaries) as your only source for your written assignments. For all written assignments, you must cite a specific page from the textbook or a primary for your facts. (See Evidence Requirements in Blackboard.)

Six Drop Rule:

Under section 51.907 of the Texas Education Code, "an institution of higher education may not permit a student to drop more than six courses, including any course a transfer student has dropped at another institution of higher education." This statute was enacted by the State of Texas in spring 2007 and applies to students who enroll in a public institution of higher education as a first-time freshman in fall 2007 or later. There are many exceptions to this rule. Please refer to the current WCJC catalog for information.

Dropping a Course with a Grade of “W:

In the History Department, instructors may not drop students. Students must drop their course. WCJC sets the last date for a student to drop a course. That date is on the second page of this syllabus and on the Course Schedule at the end.

Method of Instruction:

History is not only a required course, but also helps you succeed in your future. Understanding history:

- Provides useful information that can help you in all of the roles you will have in your life—family member, student, worker who may have to retrain many times in a rapidly changing world, and decision maker about your own life and about your own vote.
- Develops useful skills in reading, analysis, decision-making, and practical writing necessary for all of those roles.

Organization of the Course

United States History II covers from 1877 to the 21st Century. The course is split into three Units, or major time periods, that reveal shifts in our history. The three time periods are:

- Unit 1: Creating a New America from 1860 to 1900
- Unit 2: Moving to the World Stage – America from 1900 to 1945
- Unit 3: Transformations – America from 1945 to the Near Present

Blackboard and Its Use in This Class:

In this course, you need to use Blackboard for five things:

1. Using resources including links, maps, and primary sources—sources created during the period we are studying
2. Taking the 4 required Evidence Quizzes
3. Taking required Learning Quizzes
4. Submitting written assignments to Turnitin within Blackboard. Caution: You must be in Blackboard to submit.
5. Using Blackboard’s My Grades to see your grades throughout the course and, if needed, your instructor’s Comment to you about that grade as guidance on what you need to do.

If you have limited Internet or computer access, see me for ways to work with less time online.

Course Requirements

Getting Started Activities:

The Getting Started activities are to complete a form about course requirements and your plan to make the grade you want and to log in to Blackboard and take the first Learning Quiz (both its Self-Test and its Full-Test). The instructor provides a demonstration and a checklist. For those needing help, the instructor provides multiple open labs with the times announced in class and listed in a Blackboard announcement.

Assignments That Help You Learn Efficiently and Prepare for Exams and for Writing Assignments:

How Quizzes Work in This Course for Both Self-Testing and to Earn Full Points

Quizzes, whether about concepts (in Learning Quizzes) or evidence (in Evidence Requirements), always consist of:

- A self-test so you can find out what you know and do not know—with no points lost.
- Once you submit the self-test, Blackboard automatically displays additional content (if needed) and a full-test that you may repeat. The highest score counts—an incentive, a word Merriam Webster Online defines as “something that makes a person try or work hard or harder.” As another incentive, if you take a Self-Test and its Full-Test 3 days before the Unit Exam, you earn 1 point extra credit. With quizzes, these points add up.

Evidence Quizzes as a Key to Understanding Historical Writing and Basics That You Must Apply When You Write

These quizzes occur in Unit 1 and Unit 2. The content of the Evidence Quizzes comes primarily from a tutorial on the 5 Good Habits for Evidence, with some additional history-specific requirements provided in Evidence Quiz 3. The grading of writing assignments is on how you apply these basics of evidence. (See Evidence Requirements in Blackboard.)

Learning Quizzes, Concepts, and the Goal of Exam Questions

Learning Quizzes let students focus on concepts, such as the meaning of words, the location and traits of places, and parts of essential documents. Understanding concepts helps you understand accurately the facts you encounter. Questions from these quizzes are also 8 (over 30%) of the 25 questions on each Unit exam.

In this class, questions do not require that you show you know everything, but that you show that you know something. The questions focus on your recognizing significant traits of such things as regions, time periods and their dominant beliefs or events, and historical figures. The online version of the Course Plans that you turn in provide a link with examples of this type of question. Use that link. (See Getting Started in Blackboard.)

3 Unit Exams

The questions in the Unit Exam are pulled from Learning Quizzes (8 of the 25 questions), the instructor's Lesson links, with these requirements reinforced in the Study Guide, a resource available as the first link in every Unit. There are 25 questions in sets (so questions vary from person to person).

Departmental Final Exam—F for the Course If Not Taken

There is a review for the Final Exam provided in the course in a folder at the bottom of History & All Assignments. The Final Exam has 50 questions, at 2 points each. The questions in the Departmental Final Exam were written directly or chosen by the History Department. Caution: Departmental policy is an F for the course if you do not take the Final. In other words, if you have an A average for all of the prior work in the course and if you do not take the Final Exam, I am required to enter an F for your final Letter grade for the course.

Written Assignments:

How All Writing Assignments Work in This Course:

Every part of the writing and all feedback is to be based on the 5 Good Habits for Evidence. It is not about style or opinion or your memories. It requires you practice skills essential to get and keep a good job. Points are entered only after you respond to your instructor's feedback following instructions provided in class.

How In-Class Writing Assignments Work in This Course

All in-class writing is brief and is done with a pen (you provide) and on a sheet of paper provided by the instructor (with the rubric your instructor uses printed at the bottom). Some are on lectures and are not announced ahead; some require reading before class and are announced ahead. You do 4 with the lowest grade dropped. (Caution: See the Late Work Policy in this syllabus.)

How Out-of-Class Writing Assignments Work in This Course

Out-of-class writing assignments are freshman level, brief, and use only the textbook and resources in the course. You focus on a specific historical question as though you were teaching another student. You follow rules for citation provided in the course. You do 1 of 2 possible Required Writings, each with a different due date.

Your writing assignments are located in Required Writing in Blackboard. Instructions, the required file you are to use without changing any format or heading, any materials you need, and the Turnitin Assignment that you use are there. (Caution: See the Late Work Policy in this syllabus.)

Writing Assignments and Requirements about Using in Turnitin in Blackboard

With Turnitin assignments in this class, you:

- Submit your file to Turnitin in Blackboard. (We do not use Turnitin at a separate website.)
- May resubmit your file many times until the Due Date. For example, you may submit to Turnitin for feedback on grammar and plagiarism, then correct the file, and resubmit it. Submit early so you can ask questions on such things as what Turnitin has identified in its originality report.

With a Turnitin assignment, you must do these 2 things for your work to be graded.

1. Submit your file before 11:59 PM on the Due Date. Cautions and a Reminder:
  - Reminder: do not change the format of the file or its heading.
  - Do not wait until the last minute.
  - Be sure you see and print/scan the digital receipt before you exit. You do not turn in the digital receipt, but save it in case there is a problem.
  - If Turnitin seems to be taking an unusually long time to submit your file, it is usually safest to exit and resubmit.
2. Bring a single-sided print of the paper to your instructor before the seating chart is complete on your next class day after the Due Date in Turnitin. Caution: It is not accepted late.

Course Evaluation

Grading Scale:

This is a 1000-point course, with points added as you earn them. You can see your current total in Blackboard. At the end of each Unit, I post an Announcement in Blackboard to help you determine your current letter grade. If the grade is lower than you want, please ask for help. The Final Letter Grade is determined by this scale:

Point Range	Final Letter Grade
895 – 1000	A (exceptional)
795 – 894	B (above average)
695 – 794	C (average)
595 – 694	D (below average)
Below 595	F (failing)

Grading Formula:

The 1000-point course consists of these points, with the first 2 being general assignments, the middle 4 being objective assignments (gradable by computer or a Scan-Tron), and the last 2 being written assignments:

- 20 – Getting Started activities (How you start frequently determines your success at the end)
- 90 – Participation and Self-Management to Help Both Objective and Written Work
- 40 – 4 Evidence Quizzes @ 10 points each
- 200 – Learning Quizzes
- 300 – 3 Unit Exams @ 100 points each
- 100 – Comprehensive Final Exam– Departmental policy is an F for the course if you do not take it.
- 150–4 in class short essays @ 50 points each, with the lowest being dropped.
- 100– Brief, formal paper @ 100 points

Your Course Plan and Incentives for How You Work and Opportunities to Improve a Weak Grade

This course does not offer extra credit at the end of the class to help a few people make a higher grade. It does offer incentives (defined below) to all students for doing things that will make them better students. These offers require that you do things at a specific time or way so follow your Course Plan to earn those incentives.

Caution about the History Department's Course Objectives and the Requirement for 25% Writing

The History Department has student learner outcomes that require writing based on evidence and that require that you use primaries as well as secondaries. The Course Plan you submit during Getting Started provides a link to explain those objectives and the meaning of the terms primary and secondary. Use that link. (See Getting Started in Blackboard.)

The written work must be over 25 percent of your final grade, a requirement for all history instructors. That minimum means formal writing assignments are essential to pass. The Course Plans that you submit during Getting Started provide a link to show you math examples so you can see how that 25% writing requirements makes success in writing essential. Use that link. (See Getting Started in Blackboard.)

How This Course Tries to Help Different Types of Students Succeed with History

For many students, a United States history course is the first time they have had to write about something that is real—not just opinion—and therefore requires verifiable evidence from a reliable source. Some students never had United States history before. Some students are very uncomfortable and inexperienced with writing.

Also, history is cognitively like biology: both disciplines are real and both are also detailed, complex, and interconnected. That means you have plenty of ways to be wrong about those realities. Many students seem to have problems with both of these disciplines.

To try to help students with the issues above, this course does three things. First, it provides information and quizzes on these basic rules of evidence so you can find out what you do not know about evidence before you write. Second, it uses one rubric for all writing assignments and your feedback on that rubric tells you which of the 5 Good Habits for Evidence—which way of working—you may need to change. Third, with permission of the History Department to do this experiment to try to help students, it divides written grades in two parts:

- One part of the grade for the content of the written assignment itself
- One part for following the 5 Good Habits for Evidence that are introduced in Getting Started

The Course Plans that you submit during Getting Started provide a link to show you how dividing written grades in those two parts can help your grade—and your skills. Use that link. (See Getting Started in Blackboard.)

How This Course Tries to Help Different Types of Students Persist: About Incentives

Merriam-Webster's Online Dictionary defines the word incentive as:

“something that makes a person try or work hard or harder.”

With Learning Quizzes and Evidence Quizzes, you earn 1 incentive point for each quiz if you complete both parts 3 days before the Unit Exam. Caution: You will complete all of them in time only if you work consistently beginning with the 1st week Blackboard. Both parts means that you take:

- Its Self-Test so you can find out what you know and do not know (a key to success)
Tip: If you made 100% on a Self-Test (and especially on many Self-Tests), I have an alternative way of grading that means you do not have to take a Full-Test when you already know the content. Email if you are in this situation and I will explain the details.

- Its Full-Test so you can teach yourself any missed concepts by taking the test as many times as you want. (That highest score counts is also an incentive to persist.)

How This Course Tries to Help Different Types of Students Succeed with Self-Management

Factual accuracy is a key to success with assignments based on evidence, not opinion. Being able to focus on factual accuracy in class requires self-management by the class. To encourage self-management, the seating chart is a way to record distracted or distracting behavior and—the ideal—focused behavior.

If you use the Lesson links and Learning Quizzes before class, your focused participation can help the class dialog as part of the lecture. Good participation is useful to others and means such behaviors as:

- 1) No guessing and no use of information other than from the textbook or sources within the course
- 2) No answers that are off topic
- 3) Asking questions that are on topic (You can always ask general questions at the beginning of class.)
- 4) No hogging or bullying (examples available)
- 5) No use of electronics, including no attempts to hide them while using them

Each Unit has a Self-Management grade @ 30 points for a total of 90 points (9%) of your final grade. A mark on the seating chart in orange means no points for the Unit. The chart shows the other possible grades.

Points	Letter Grade	What Do You Do to Earn It?	How Is It Measured?	Quantity Required
23.9	C++ averaging as a B-	In class, no distracted or distracting behaviors	No orange dots in your seating chart for the Unit.	0 (Absolutely not 1 time during the Unit)
25.5	Averages as a mid-B	Does the above and also does focused participation in class dialog within lecture	1 blue dot in your seating chart for the Unit	At least 1 time
27.0	Averages as an A-	Does both things above	2 blue dots	At least 2 times
30	100%	Does both things above	3 or more blue dots	At least 3 times

Course Policies

Class Behavior Policy:

Disruptive behavior that is a consistent problem will result in the student’s dismissal from this course. The term “classroom disruption” means behavior a reasonable person would view as substantially or repeatedly interfering with the conduct, instruction, and education of a class. Examples include resorting to physical threats or personal insults, coming to class under the influence of alcohol or a controlled substance other than prescriptions, or abusing students or instructors with offensive remarks. They also include repeatedly leaving and entering the classroom without authorization, making loud or distracting noises, persisting in speaking without being recognized. (See WCJC’s Student Handbook.)

Attendance Policy:

WCJC’s Student Handbook explains responsibilities for attendance and when a student should withdraw from the course. I will consider active attendance throughout the course favorably when computing final grades that are borderline. (Details provided in class.) Active attendance means 3 things: 1) using the upcoming Lesson’s Learning Quizzes before class, 2) using that preparation to participate positively in problem solving in class, 3) taking notes, and 4) removing all distractions. Using a cell phone, smartwatch, computer, or other device during class makes active attendance improbable. Put up all of these devices before class starts. Your self-management in class during each of the 3 Units is measured for a grade. (Covered above.) If you cannot resist using your cell phone—for example—during class, then you will not only lose the points for the Unit, but also before the beginning of the next class you will need to place the device in a safe location provided by the instructor and then pick up your device at the end of class.

Exceptions:

- If you have a family emergency or equivalent event that requires your being able to respond to cell phone messages during a class, then see me before class.
- If counseling has confirmed that you need to use a computer during class and if you use it only for work going on in this class, then provide their form to me and talk with me privately.

Attendance Policy, Locking of the Door, the Seating Chart, and Out-of-Class Papers

For security reasons, the door will be locked 5 minutes after the beginning of the class. Attendance will be taken once daily at the beginning of the class. If you come into class after the seating chart is complete but before the door is locked, you are not marked as attending for the day. Students who frequently come to class after the seating chart is complete tend to make very low grades for the course. For example, they miss announcements about topics for the day and they do not hear other students' questions about upcoming assignments.

With out-of-class papers, work is due at the beginning of class. For example, if you arrive after the seating chart is complete, you cannot hand in your paper copy of a Turnitin Assignment. Tip: If you cannot come to class or be there before the seating chart is completed, have the printed copy timestamped at the reception area before the class starts. Then follow their instructions for putting the paper in my mailbox. Also email me before the class to check my mail box.

On the date in the Course Schedule (at the end of this syllabus), you choose your preferred seat; however, students who chat after class starts will be moved to another seat on the next class day.

Academic Honesty Policy:

WCJC's Student Handbook explains student responsibilities and provides examples of misconduct. It states "plagiarism and cheating refer to the use of unauthorized books, notes, or otherwise securing help during a test; copying tests [or] assignments...." The Handbook provides details on college-level policies. In this course, copying any part of an assignment from the Internet or another source is a zero (0) on the assignment.

Due Dates, the Course Schedule (at the end of this syllabus), and Your Responsibilities:

It is your responsibility to talk to your instructor if you do not know what to do. It is your responsibility:

1. To talk to me if you do not know what to do or need help. The earlier we talk, the better your chances of success.
2. To use the Course Schedule to determine:
  - What Lessons we are covering in the coming week and therefore specific Learning Quizzes you should do
  - What is DUE—including preparation and what you print and bring to class before the seating chart is completed.
3. To understand the Late Work Policy (below) so you can understand the consequences of your decisions.

Late Work Policy:

With due dates for any assignment, including exams and required writing, there are no extensions unless it is appropriate to make an extension available to all of you. You have these responsibilities:

1. If your planning at the beginning of the term shows you cannot do these assignments, such as having previously scheduled a trip, tell your instructor immediately and suggest an earlier date for you do the assignment.

Tip: Examine the Course Schedule to determine if you have conflicts and immediately propose an earlier date.

- If something happens that you cannot plan for, such as suddenly becoming very ill (doctor's note required) or having a death in the family, tell your instructor immediately and provide a valid, written excuse.

With a valid, written excuse provided immediately for something that no one could plan for, these rules apply.

- If you miss an exam, your make-up exam is taken on the date of the Final Exam.
- If you miss an out-of-class Required Writing you receive an extension, set by me, with no penalty. Caution: If you miss an in-class writing, you also must provide a valid, written excuse. You write on a different question and during my next office hour.

Without a valid, written excuse for something that no one could plan for, you receive a 0. Tip: If you had an event that does not meet the criteria of something that no one could plan, do the assignment as best you can and submit it on time. A low grade is better than a 0.

Course Schedule (With Information about Points as a Reminder about Your Plan)

General Information:

Dates	Last day for you to "Drop" the course with grade of "W" – 4/13/2017 Holidays–TCCTA (3/2), Spring Break (3/12-3/16), UIL (3/23), Easter (3/29-3/30)
Due Dates and Hours	For the date due, see the Due column. On that date, quizzes close at noon; Turnitin submissions, at 11:59 PM. The print of the paper is due to the instructor before the door is locked. The incentive date for quizzes (covered in the syllabus) is 3 days before your Unit Exam.
Passwords	For Self-tests – selftest (no capitals, no spaces, no punctuation)
Reference Chapters	The numbers listed in a Unit's heading are for the textbook chapters applicable to the Unit.
