Course Meeting Days, Times and Location (Campus, Building, and Room number) – Distance Learning Course in Blackboard
Instructor’ Name – C.J. Bibus, Ed.D.
Instructor’s Telephone number(s) –281-239-1577 Instructor’s email address – bibusc@wcjc.edu Instructor’s webpage – https://wcjc.blackboard.com/
Instructor’s Office Hours and Office Location – Richmond, 240G: 8-8:50 AM (MW), 10-10:50 AM (MWF), 12-1:00 PM (M); Sugar Land, 234: 9:25-10:40 AM (TT), 12:15-1:15 PM (Tuesday). Online office hours are in the syllabus.
Course Catalog Description – A survey of the social, political, economic, cultural, and intellectual history of the United States from the Civil War/Reconstruction era to the present. United States History II examines industrialization, immigration, world wars, the Great Depression, Cold War and post-Cold War eras. Themes that may be addressed in United States History II include: American culture, religion, civil and human rights, technological change, economic change, immigration and migration, urbanization and suburbanization, the expansion of the federal government, and the study of U.S. foreign policy.
Instructor’s Grading System – Objective work consists of 15 InQuizitive sessions, 3 Unit Exams, and a Departmental Final Exam. Written work includes 1 Forum for each Unit, 1 writing assignment for Units 1 and 2, an Analysis of Primaries, and 2 anonymous peer reviews on that analysis. See the syllabus for course policies, exam dates, grading policies, points for each type of assignment, and points required for the final letter grade.
Instructor’s Attendance Policy – Students should log in to work at least 3 times a week. Blackboard stores data on time spent and where.
Last day to “Drop” course with grade of “W” – April 29, 2016

* The college will make reasonable accommodations for students with documented disabilities. Students wishing to receive accommodations must contact the Office of Disability Services at (979) 532-6384; located in the Pioneer Student Center, Room 313, at the Wharton campus. Students must request accommodations from the Office of Disability Services prior to each semester. Please note that accommodations provided are not retroactive. Click here for WCJC’s Disability Services.

 Misconduct for which discipline may be administered at WCJC includes, but is not limited to, cheating, plagiarism, or knowingly furnishing false information to the college (plagiarism and cheating refer to the use of unauthorized books, notes, or otherwise securing help in a test, copying tests, assignments, reports, or term papers).

Course Overview and Goals

Prerequisite: TSI satisfied in Reading and Writing, HIST 1301 recommended but not required.

Course Description: A survey of the social, political, economic, cultural, and intellectual history of the United States from the Civil War/Reconstruction era to the present. United States History II examines industrialization, immigration, world wars, the Great Depression, Cold War and post-Cold War eras. Themes that may be addressed in United States History II include: American culture, religion, civil and human rights, technological change, economic change, immigration and migration, urbanization and suburbanization, the expansion of the federal government, and the study of U.S. foreign policy.

Course Objectives: Upon successful completion of this course, students will:

- 1) Create an argument through the use of historical evidence.
- 2) Analyze and interpret primary and secondary sources.
- 3) Analyze the effects of historical, social, political, economic, cultural, and global forces on this period of United States history.

Academic and Personal Integrity: WCJC's Student Handbook explains student responsibilities and provides examples of misconduct. It states "plagiarism and cheating refer to the use of unauthorized books, notes, or otherwise securing help during a test; copying tests [or] assignments...." The Handbook provides details on college-level consequences. Also see the Academic Honesty Statement for Online Classes in Getting Started. In this course, copying any part of an assignment from the Internet or another source is a zero (0) on the assignment.

Classroom Civility: WCJC's Student Handbook explains student responsibilities for civility. As with on-campus classrooms, each student is expected not to disrupt the class or abuse any person. Blackboard stores what you do (including messages you create with any tool), when you do it, and where you go. Some Blackboard tools—such as the Discussion Board—not only store messages permanently, but also make what you write visible to everyone in the class. When communicating publicly with the whole class and with individuals, you need to be both kind and collaborative. (See Course Orientation for specifics.)

Attendance Policy: WCJC's Student Handbook explains responsibilities for attendance and when a student should withdraw from the course. With distance learning, Blackboard stores extensive data on time spent and where. Given the speed of an 8-week course covering 16 weeks' of work, students should log in at least 3 times a week to work online with quizzes, resources, and student forums. Students should also work offline, including careful reading of the required sources.

Attendance Policy and Due Dates and Your Responsibilities: It is your responsibility to email or talk to me if you do not know what to do. The earlier we communicate, the better are our chances for success.

With due dates for any assignment, including Unit Exams (whether objective or the written part) or writing done through Turnitin in Blackboard, there are no extensions unless it is appropriate to make an extension available to all of you. You have these responsibilities:

1. If your planning at the beginning of the term shows you cannot do these assignments, such as having previously scheduled a trip, tell me immediately and suggest an earlier date for you do the assignment.
2. If something happens that you cannot plan for, such as suddenly becoming very ill (doctor's note required) or having a death in the family, tell me immediately and provide a valid, written excuse.

With a valid, written excuse, these rules apply.

- If you miss any part of any Exam, your make-up exam is taken on the date of the Final Exam.
- If you miss an Analysis, you receive an extension, set by me, with no penalty.

Six Course Drop Limit: Under section 51.907 of the Texas Education Code, “an institution of higher education may not permit a student to drop more than six courses, including any course a transfer student has dropped at another institution of higher education.” This statute was enacted by the State of Texas in spring 2007 and applies to students who enroll in a public institution of higher education as first-time freshmen in fall 2007 or later. See WCJC’s current catalog for details.

Dropping a Course with a Grade of “W”: In the History Department, instructors may not drop students. Students must drop their courses. WCJC sets the last date for a student to drop a course. That date is on the first page of this syllabus and also on the Course Schedule at the end.

Contact Information: Online Office Hours, Hours On-Campus, or Help by Phone

I am glad to help you online, to meet you on campus, or to work with you by phone. If we both have Blackboard open, working together by phone brings the fastest solution. I teach on two campuses: Fort Bend Tech Center (FBTC) in Richmond on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday (MWF) and Sugar Land (SUGUH) on Tuesday and Thursday (TTR). My Campus Office Hours are listed at the top of the prior page. At FBTC, I have a private office and a reliable phone; on the other hand, at Sugar Land, I work in a public area (no privacy) with an unreliable phone so emailing for an appointment is best. During Online Office Hours, I reply to Blackboard Messages and forum posts or on MWF your phone calls.

Instructor's Name:	Dr. C.J. Bibus
Office Voicemail:	281-239-1577 – On MWF, checked throughout the day. On TTR, checked once after my last class.
Required Email:	Messages (the Blackboard email available on the left menu in our course) – Once the course opens, email only with Blackboard's Messages.
Online Access:	Access to Blackboard Learn (Opens in New Window) Tip: Bookmark this URL. https://wcjc.blackboard.com
Online Office Hours:	8:00-8:45 am, 10:15-10:45 am (Monday, Wednesday, Friday), 12:30-1:00 pm (Monday) or by appointment. Tuesday and Thursday by appointment.

Communication with Your Instructor

Your Responsibilities to Communicate: You must log in at least 3 times a week and check both Blackboard Messages and Announcements. If I email you in Blackboard Messages, you must read and reply or call me if you do not understand. You must be sure you have read all announcements since your last login.

Your Instructor's Communication: I make every effort to return messages (course email, phone, discussion postings) within 36 hours (weekends and holidays excepted) and to provide feedback for written assignments by one week after the DUE date. If I cannot, I post an announcement. I generally:

- Enter Getting Started grades on the weekend at the end of the first week.
- Enter extra credit grades for students staying current with InQuizitive sessions at the end of the day after the DUE date in the Course Schedule.
- Review each day and, if useful, reply or give feedback on Discussion postings, but only enter grades for the Students Helping Students with History after each Unit ends.
- With written assignments, use announcements to tell you how to find feedback on written assignments and how to respond to that feedback. I do not enter points for writing until you respond to feedback. (I am also glad to explain feedback by phone or meet you on campus.)
- Use announcements at the end of Units to let you determine your current letter grade so you know if you need to ask for help to improve.

Method of Instruction

History is not only a required course, but it also helps you succeed in your future. Understanding history provides:

- Useful information that can help you in all of the roles you will have in your life—family member, student, worker who may have to retrain many times in a rapidly changing world, and decision maker about your own life and about your own vote.
- Useful skills in reading and analysis and writing that are necessary for all of those roles.

Required Textbook – Required When You Write about History and Used When I Grade

This textbook is required: David E. Shi and George Brown Tindall, America, The Essential Learning Edition. It is the one-volume edition containing 30 chapters. The ISBN is 978-0-393-93587-5.

You must use your textbook and required primaries and other resources provided in the course as your only source of facts for your written assignments. For all written assignments, including in-class Unit writing assignments, you must cite a specific page from the textbook for your facts.

You must also use InQuizitive (an interactive aid to determining what you know and don't know and—if you don't know a fact—where to read those facts in the textbook). For this term, WCJC students may use InQuizitive for the 180-day free trial. Caution: InQuizitive is free, not the eBook. If you do not purchase the eBook, it may be displayed temporarily with InQuizitive but you will not continue to see it.

Possible Additional Required Materials and 2 Weeks' Notice If the Materials Are Needed

You may need a computer with a webcam and microphone, a reliable internet connection, and access to the WCJC Blackboard site. In the event you must have a webcam, you will have at least 2 weeks' notice as well as instructions posted in the course.

Exams

This course may require the use of Lockdown Browser for taking online exams. The Lockdown Browser software prevents a user from accessing other applications or going to other websites during an exam. The webcam records you during the exam to ensure you're only using resources that are permitted. Together, these tools make it possible for students to take online exams from any location, and at times that are convenient. It also creates a fair testing environment for everyone in the course. Instructions for downloading the Lockdown Browser software will be posted in the course.

Organization of the Course

United States History II covers from 1877 to the 21st Century. The course is split into three Units, or major time periods, that reveal shifts in our history. The three time periods are:

- Unit 1: Creating a New America from 1860 to 1913
- Unit 2: Moving to the World Stage – America from 1890 to 1945
- Unit 3: Transformations – America from 1945 to the Present

The link What's Required and What's Not at the top of each unit shows you what to do in the Unit. The Study Guide helps you plan both your written and objective work so you can be successful in less time.

Course Evaluation and the Grading Scale for the Final Letter Grade

This is a 1000-point course, with points added as you earn them. Announcements let you determine your current letter grade at the end of each Unit. If the grade is lower than you want, ask for help. The Final Letter Grade is determined by this scale:

895 – 1000	A (exceptional)
795 – 894	B (above average)
695 – 794	C (average)
595 – 694	D (below average)
Below 594	F (failing)

Course Evaluation, Overview of Types of Assignments, and Rubrics Used

The 1000-point course consists of objective work (such as multiple choice or matching) and Getting Started activities. It consists of written work, including 9% of your grade for work in Students Helping Students with History—a way of working that improves reading for and writing with evidence. - Caution: The History Department's requirement for a minimum of 25 percent of the grade for writing means formal writing assignments are essential to pass. Please ask if you do not know why or use the links with the Course Plan that you submit as part of your Getting Started activities.

660 Points (Plus 30 Extra Credit Points) for Objective Work: The objective work consists of:

- 5 Introductory tasks in Getting Started - 25 points
- 1 introductory task in the first chapter of Unit 1 to register InQuizitive – 10 points
- 15 InQuizitive sessions to help you read and figure out each chapter @ a maximum of 15 points each (For example, if you score 90 or more on InQuizitive for the first chapter in Unit 1 by the end of the Unit, you earn 15 points; if 80%, 12.) You may also earn 2 extra credit points by “starting” each of the 15 Chapter InQuizitives by the date in the Course Schedule.
- 3 Unit Objective Exams @ 100 points each
- Departmental Final Exam @ 100 points – Departmental policy is an F for the course if you do not take the Final.

30 Points (Plus 34.25 Extra Credit Points) for Introductory Tasks in Evidence Matters: Student requests determined this module's content. Some students know the basics of using evidence; others do not. This module tries to match students' different needs—but without damaging their grades.

- It includes such things as quizzes to determine what you know and don't know about evidence, an opportunity to take those quizzes for full points, a tutorial, examples of citation, a forum for questions, and a form on your personal responsibilities on evidence that you submit so you can see written assignments. Tip: These quizzes are also on the Unit 1 Objective Exam.
- You not only earn 30 points for these activities, but also have an additional 30 points as extra credit if you continue to follow those Good Habits for Evidence with each written assignment.

310 Points of Informal and Formal Written Work: The informal writing is in the Students Helping Students with History forums. They are meant to help students learn history accurately and focus on evidence. Grades for formal written assignments are split in two parts:

- One part of the grade for the written assignment itself
- One part for following the 5 Good Habits for Evidence that are introduced in Evidence Matters – You must complete the 5 Good Habits for Evidence form and your instructor must enter the 30 points extra credit for it for you to see the formal written assignments.

Some formal written assignments help students observe evidence accurately about something such as an event, movement, or person. Units 1 and 2 have 1 written question. With the written question, you know all possible content, but not the question you will have to answer. The question is worth 20 points for the content and 20 points for following all 5 Good Habits for Evidence. Tip: Unit 1's written question serves as a way that you and your instructor can determine if you understand the 5 Good Habits for Evidence. If not, your feedback will give you an opportunity to get this straight.

Some formal written assignments help students examine primaries provided in the course and see how things changed over time. With these analyses of history, the points are:

- 1) Proposal and Plan for the Analysis covering Unit 1 and Unit 2 @ 30 points and 30 for following all 5 Good Habits for Evidence. You must complete this form and make changes as requested to be able to do the analysis itself. Tips: Do not write the paper itself until you receive feedback. For earlier feedback and to allow time to make changes if needed, submit as early as possible.
- 2) Analysis of Primaries @ 30 points and 30 points for following all 5 Good Habits for Evidence.
- 3) 2 Anonymous Peer Reviews @ 10 points and 10 points for following all 5 Good Habits for Evidence
You analyze the students' work compared to requirements and pages used as a source and complete 2 online forms.

Use of Rubrics: A rubric is a tool to both determine grades and provide detailed feedback. All rubrics focus on your following the 5 Good Habits for Evidence whether the rubric is for Students Helping Students with History, for written questions, or for written comparisons. You can see the rubric of each type of assignment with the assignments.

Details about Objective Work Including Extra Credit for Keeping Current with Daily Work

Extra Credit for Keeping Current: On the DUE date in the Course Schedule for starting work on a Chapter InQuizitive session or required instructor's quiz, I enter 2 extra credit points. Tips:

- Until the last day and hour of the Unit, you can continue to increase your percentage with InQuizitive Chapters and your score with the instructor's required quizzes.
- With InQuizitive, you must answer approximately 33% to 37% of the questions for the percentage to be visible where you can see the number at My Grades (and where your instructor can tell you have started the work).

15 InQuizitive Sessions to Help You Determine What You Need to Read in Each Chapter: With InQuizitive:

- You can stop and later return to your session.
- If you miss a question, InQuizitive tells you the specific pages to read in the textbook.
- If you guess or over-estimate your knowledge, InQuizitive increases the number of questions.
- You can use an InQuizitive session throughout the Unit with your percentage at the end of the Unit determining the For Points grade for the chapter. If you score 90 or more on an InQuizitive chapter by the end of the Unit, you earn 15 points and, if 80%, 12. (An Excel chart is used to determine the points for different percentages.)

3 Unit Objective Exams: The questions in the Unit Objective Exam are pulled from the textbook chapters and the instructor's quizzes. With the exam for Unit 1, the questions also include those from Evidence Matters., The words used in questions are not the same as the textbook, but the content is.

Departmental Final Exam—F for the Course If Not Taken: The 25 questions, at 4 points each, in the Departmental Final Exam were written directly or chosen by the History Department. Departmental policy is an F for the course if you do not take the Final. In other words, if you have an A average for all of the prior work in the course and if you do not take the Final Exam, I am required to enter an F for your final LETTER grade for the course. Also WCJC determines the date of the Final Exam, not the instructor. See the Course Schedule for the date.

Details about the 2 Types of Formal Writing

Formal Written Assignments That Answer a Question: Questions can be about such things as an event, movement, or person. Blackboard provides these things:

- Content you need—a Study Guide that helps to guide preparation for the exam, including letting you see all of the possible questions you may see on the Unit 1 Written Exam.
- Tool you use—Blackboard's exam tool for writing paragraphs and Blackboard displays the specific question from those possible questions that you must write about.
- How you cite—See the example for this assignment in Evidence Matters for a simple way to use the equivalent of endnotes within this tool. Caution: You must not only cite, but cite as shown.

Formal Written Assignments That Analyze Primaries in More Than 1 Period of Time: Blackboard provides these things for written assignments analyzing primaries across two units:

- Content you need—the required primaries are in a folder with each chapter
- Files you need—a preformatted file for you to use for the proposal and another preformatted file for the formal paper itself. (You must use the preformatted files.)
Tip: You may choose to use the Safe Topic—a completed form that has the primaries and topic. All that you add are a list of the textbook pages that provide the context for these primaries.
- Tool you use—Turnitin used within Blackboard. You may submit to Turnitin to get feedback, including on possible problems with originality (possible plagiarism), and then revise and resubmit. Do revise. If you don't understand Turnitin's feedback, ask me for help.
- How you cite—See the example for this assignment in Evidence Matters. Tip: If you already know how to use the exact citation formats in The Chicago Manual of Style, you may do that instead of the simple format used in this course.

Details about Informal Written Work Done in Students Helping Students with History

Self-management is a prerequisite for success in participation and written work. Factual accuracy is a key to success with any written assignment that is based on evidence, not opinion.

Participations focused on factual accuracy mean you have these basic habits:

- Read carefully, whether InQuizitive, the textbook, the course sources, or your colleagues' posts
- Do not guess or use information other than from the textbook or sources within the course.
- Be specific in your posting such as the exact page number from the textbook or primary source.
- Be brief but clear in asking and answering.
- Post in the correct forum (also called Discussions by Blackboard). If you are asking about content in Unit 1, post in its Students Helping Students with History. If you have a general course question, post in Course Questions.

The Students Helping Students with History forums are a way to apply these basic habits online and with a group. Focused participations asking and answering questions can help you—and the group.

You also have an alternative way to show focused participation because both InQuizitive and the textbook are new. New software, new textbooks, new products, and even a new set of instructions from an organization or company that you may go to work for will probably have problems like those I have found in InQuizitive and our textbook. These are examples of the problems I have seen:

- Errors in facts where InQuizitive makes statements contrary to the Essentials edition.
- Errors in coding, such as a question asks you to make 4 matches but the software only allows 3.
- Incorrect page reference, such as the prior page number has that information.
- Omissions of information needed to answer an InQuizitive question or find something specifically referred to in the textbook. (The Essentials edition is abridged and does not have all content in the current 9th edition.)

In other words, InQuizitive and your textbook will be a lot like the information you will see for the rest of your life (including with information that can hurt your finances for decades or get you fired). If you use any source (especially a new one) and just repeat or click passively, you are not reading well—and you need to learn to do this. To use a word frequently in the research about our nation’s reading problems, you need to “engage” the content.

Engaging the content means you:

- Not only will learn so that you know the words and can make your own sentences with them
 - But also will simultaneously spot the types of problems listed above.
- Caution: If you aren’t seeing the problems listed above, you may just be clicking instead of reading and, to be practical, are not “engaging” enough to learn and to do well on the two parts of the Unit Exam.

Given that InQuizitive and the Essentials edition are new, another way to demonstrate your focused participation is to help others. When you find a problem, do this:

1. Make a screen print (instructions available) of the problem and try to include the date (frequently at the bottom right of the screen).
2. Post it in Students Helping Students with History so others learn without the frustration you had.
3. Place in your Subject line the Chapter # and the first words of the heading of the screen and attach a screen print. You may add more details in the body of the message if needed. Instructions are in the forum.

Examples of how the 30 points work throughout each Unit:

Points	Letter Grade	What Do You Do to Earn It?	Quantity Required
23.9	A C++ that averages as a B-	Watches for postings and reads them. Replies to show that you are reading the posts, with a phrase such as “I will use this information” (and do use it)	At least 3 replies showing you are reading the posts
25.5	Averages as a mid-B	Does focused participations either following the instructions for posting a question or answering another student’s question or by the alternative of providing information as explained above this table	At least 1 focused participation
27.0	Averages as an A-	Does focused participations as described above	At least 2
30	100%	Does focused participations as described above	At least 3

Course Schedule – What’s Due on Learning Units & All Assignments

General Information about Dates in the Course Schedule

Holidays during this 8-week course are Easter (3/24-3/25) and UIL (4/01).

This is NOT a self-paced course. Materials open and close on a schedule and may not become visible until a specified point in the course or a specific action by you. Use the Course Schedule on the next page as your guide as to when material opens and closes. Some of the dates for the units overlap to give students maximum flexibility.

- Hour work is DUE: All work is DUE by 11:55 PM on the date listed.
- Hour work opens: All work opens at 12:00 AM on the date listed except Peer Review (10:30 AM)—a difference to avoid technical problems that I have seen in the past
- Password if you can only take a quiz, exam, or assignment one time: onetimeonly

Using the Course Schedule to Find Assignments on Learning Units & All Assignments

1. To do anything listed in the Course Schedule, first click on Learning Units & All Assignments.
2. On Learning Units & All Assignments, look for the same name listed on the Course Schedule. Example: You see the words Getting Started – Course Documents and Orientation at both:
 - The top of the Course Schedule
 - The top of Learning Units & All assignments

The Course Schedule tells you when the Getting Started module opens and how to start. The Getting Started module contains everything you need, including Blackboard tools—the Syllabus Quiz, Discussions for this module, and Blackboard Messages (its email)..

What the Bolded Words In Current Analysis of Primaries Help You Find in the Course Schedule

Because writing assignments (the proposal and the paper itself) for the Analysis of Primaries are part of the content and primaries for Unit 1 and Unit 2, its Turnitin Assignments and instructions are in a folder between those two Units.

Those dates in the Course Schedule begin with the bolded words In Current Analysis of Primaries. Whatever is the current analysis on the Course Schedule will be visible on that date in the module Current Analysis of Primaries.

Cautions about Items on the Course Schedule

- Light blue text highlights an alternative DUE date. Email me in Blackboard Messages for details.
- To earn extra credit for an InQuizitive chapter, the word Starting in the Course Schedule means its percentage must be visible at My Grades. Its percentage is not visible at Blackboard My Grades until you have done approximately 33 to 37% of the questions for an InQuizitive chapter.
- With Turnitin submissions, save your digital receipt. You do not need to submit it, but it is confirmation that you did successfully submit. If Turnitin does not provide a digital receipt, the safe action is to resubmit.
- With all tasks and steps and other work, check My Grades for feedback. If you have a 1.11 (a temporary place holder), read the Comments for that grade at My Grades for what you need to do to complete the work. Ask if you need help. The sooner you ask, the sooner you can succeed.

Getting Started - Course Documents and Orientation (MAR 21-MAR 22)

- MON 3/21 Getting Started opens. (Use Read Me First to determine what to do and when.)
TUE 3/22 4 tasks DUE (Use the instructions at the end of Course Orientation to be sure you do all 4 tasks.)
If you need more time for these 4 tasks, email me immediately in Blackboard Messages.

Evidence Matters – Required to See All Writing Assignments (MAR 22-APR 3)

- TUE 3/22 Evidence Matters opens, a key resource you may use at your own pace while you also work in Unit 1
SUN 4/03 All steps DUE in Evidence Matters. (To see Unit 1 Written Exam when it opens, you must submit your Personal Responsibility Form by 4/03 so your instructor can enter the points on 4/04.)

Unit 1: Creating a New America from 1860 to 1913 (Chapters 16-19) (Early open, MAR 21-APR 6)

- TUE 3/22 Unit 1 Work opens, including its Study Guide-Early open, 10:00 AM, MON 3/21. See Announcement.
WED 3/23 All steps in InQuizitive registration DUE; percentage for Chapter 16 InQuizitive visible at My Grades.
Starting Chapter 16 InQuizitive DUE to receive 2 points extra credit.
TUE 3/29 Starting Chapter 17 InQuizitive DUE to receive 2 points extra credit.
THU 3/31 Starting Chapter 18 InQuizitive to receive 2 points extra credit.
MON 4/4 Starting Chapter 19 InQuizitive DUE to receive 2 points extra credit.
TUE 4/5 Unit 1 Objective Exam and Written Exam open
WED 4/6 Unit 1 Written Exam DUE - The possible questions that Blackboard will display are in a link in the Study Guide for Unit 1. Reminder: You must cite each fact using the equivalent of endnotes.
SUN 4/10 Remaining Unit 1 Work DUE (Objective Exam, Students Helping Students forum, InQuizitive for Chapters 16, 17, 18, 19). Caution: This does not delay the Unit 2 Work; it just gives those of you who started late a chance to catch up.

Unit 2: Moving to the World Stage-America from 1890 to 1945 (Chapters 20-24) (APR 6-APR 20)

- WED 4/6 Unit 2 Work opens, including its Study Guide
In Current Analysis of Primaries, the Proposal opens. (Submit early for early feedback.)
Submitting the Analysis of Primaries is also open. You must have a grade for your proposal to see it.
THU 4/7 Starting Chapter InQuizitive 20 DUE to receive 2 points extra credit.
MON 4/11 Starting Chapter InQuizitive 21 DUE to receive 2 points extra credit.
MON 4/13 Starting Chapter InQuizitive 22 DUE to receive 2 points extra credit.
In Current Analysis of Primaries, Proposal DUE
FRI 4/15 Starting Chapter 23 InQuizitive DUE to receive 2 points extra credit.
MON 4/18 Starting Chapter 24 InQuizitive DUE to receive 2 points extra credit.
TUE 4/19 Unit 2 Objective Exam and Written Exam open
SUN 4/24 Unit 2 Work DUE (Objective Exam, ~~Written Exam~~, Students Helping Students forum, InQuizitive)
Caution: This does not delay the Unit 3 Work; it just tries to cope with the trial access issue.
MON 4/25 Unit 2 Written Exam only
